Message from the Mayor of Saint-Laurent

The orange ribbon campaign—with We have grown together as its slogan—marks the milestone of 100,000 residents in our Borough.

Dear fellow citizens of Saint-Laurent,

Saint-Laurent has reached the milestone of 100,000 residents! This excellent news—which we announced at the beginning of the summer—marks an important step in our community's development. Beyond a doubt, we owe this remarkable growth to the quality of life enjoyed in Saint-Laurent, which contributes toward making it a choice destination for new families. Our Borough can really take pride in being "an active, attractive, responsible and innovative community", as the theme of our strategic planning for 2014-2017 so rightly emphasizes.

This announcement also demonstrates that Saint-Laurent's Administration is heading in the right direction, with the very many diversified cultural, sports, leisure and social development services it offers. The contents of the publication you are now holding in your hands represents the best proof, once again.

One example, among various others, of the success achieved by our overall programs of activities: the Bibliothèque du Boisé, whose first anniversary was celebrated last July, has welcomed 412,000 visitors since it opened. This impressive number of visitors has already made over half a million library loans. In addition, hundreds of activities held on- and off-site have delighted numerous participants of all ages. Needless to say, this outstanding building is therefore completely fulfilling its role of facilitating access to culture and providing a place for everyone to get together and make discoveries of all kinds.

The next prestigious building to be launched on our territory will be the sports complex—our Complexe sportif. Already, we are impatiently awaiting the day when this centre will open its doors to a multitude of sports activities, encouraging all members of our families to practise a wide variety of sports and supporting the development of our athletes. Located in the heart of the Borough's recreational-educational hub, the Complexe sportif is setting its sights on LEED Gold certification. The success of this sports complex promises to be as dazzling as that of its neighbour, the Bibliothèque du Boisé!

Between now and the opening of this sports complex, your wants and needs won't be neglected: countless sports and cultural activities have been planned for you by our teams, in cooperation with local partners. You will find the details on the following pages. Don't hesitate to take advantage of them along with your loved ones!

Message from the Director

Ladies and gentlemen,

While summer is getting ready to say its good-byes, our teams have been making plans to enhance your fall and winter for a long time now! We have worked very hard, in close cooperation with the volunteer committees, to offer you a wide range of activities that are bound to fulfill the aspirations of grown-ups and youngsters alike. And so now you can start lining up all your leisure, cultural and sports activities for the fall and winter, and reserve the dates—on your family's agenda—of the numerous free events organized by our Borough.

Some of you will find, once again, the cultural workshops or sports sessions that you enjoy, while others will discover attractive new finds. For instance, the Preschool Center is offering a brand new program that will help 5-year-olds and under tackle stimulating challenges in their very first years—accompanied by their parents or even their grand-parents! Dancing, yoga, musical games, comedy, arts and crafts: there is no lack of choices...

The cultural workshops are also presenting a variety of new features. For example, adults will be able to take part in a daytime choir and music theory courses given by the Ensemble vocal de Saint-Laurent. As for teens, they will have the chance to be introduced to yoga or crochet-knitting, while children will have the opportunity to learn yoga and calligraphy.

In order to inform Saint-Laurent residents well about its many activities, the Borough produces several publications in print, such as this Agenda. And take note that the jam-packed program of both libraries is now published in a separate brochure available on our Internet site as well as in our municipal buildings.

In addition, Saint-Laurent communicates with its residents on various media, as listed on page 14. I would like to attract your attention to the Saint-Laurent in motion mobile application. Launched last year, it now has a new section that includes the three seasons of the Boisé Literary Path and another section featuring active and public transportation on our territory.

Our team are also already planning, at a longer range, the many activities at the Complexe sportif—in partnership with Saint-Laurent's volunteer committees. We are very excited about presenting everyone this new treasure in our Borough.

I wish you and your family happy days ahead as you return to your routine!

UNIVERSAL ACCESS IN SAINT-LAURENT

Universal accessibility is a major concern in Saint-Laurent's, and many initiatives have been launched with the aim of improving universal access since 2006 in its many renovation and construction action plans and projects.

Major renovations facilitating universal access have been carried out at Aréna Raymond-Bourque and at Borough Hall, where an elevator, a Citizens' Office service counter, and stroboscopic lighting and hearing support systems for the Council room have all been installed in keeping with the requirements of universal accessibility.

In 2010 and 2012, Saint-Laurent receives the Panam Award for its deployment of outstanding and sustained efforts in the matter of universally accessible recreational activities.

In 2011, Saint-Laurent adheres to the new municipal policy on universal access (Politique municipale d'accessibilité universelle).

Since 2008, close to 350 children with disabilities have participated in summer camps under the recreation support program (Programme d'accompagnement en loisirs).

Universal access integrated into all redevelopment projects in parks and park chalets.

Construction in 2013 of the new Bibliothèque du Boisé in compliance with the principles of universal accessibility.
