FEBRUARY 2020

A SUNNY, SNOWY SETTING FOR THE WINTER FESTIVAL WEEKEND!

Mother Nature was extremely generous during the Winter Festival Weekend, providing plenty of snow and sun to the great joy of the participants.

Held from February 7 to 9, these three days of festivities offered a large variety of fun and free winter activities. The snowfall on Friday created the perfect setting for evening skating in Parc Beaudet, for the Scandinavian afternoon at Parc-nature du Bois-de-Liesse on Saturday, and of course, for the 27th edition of the Féerie in Parc Gohier on Sunday.

Under the theme of Vikings and warmed by a radiant sun, youngsters shrieked with delight during the Féerie with games, archery with foam arrows, carriage rides, inflatable structures and treats. Blacksmith demonstrations and juggling numbers also entertained the 700 or so visitors, as did the buskers who mingled with them, including a majestic Snow King!

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Dear fellow citizens of Saint-Laurent,

It’s been a long time since we’ve had such perfect conditions for the Féerie d’hiver! A radiant sun, temperatures just cold enough for great skating surfaces, and an immaculate blanket of snow left by the season’s first real snowstorm, set the stage. As is clear in the awesome photos in the centrefold, the Féerie will leave lasting memories for the hundreds of toddlers who came out accompanied by their parents.

These colourful festivities remind me of how our winter has unfolded so far. The outstanding exhibitions at the Centre d’exposition Letbhrige and the Centre des loisirs, the launch of a stimulating cultural program for the coming months, a gorgeous overhaul of our cherished Bibliothèque du Vieux-Saint-Laurent. It seems that our white surroundings are as inspirational for us as a blank canvas!

I invite you to do the same by showing your colours! Whether through digital creation techniques taught at our new Mixlab or more traditional ones at our Centre des loisirs and very soon back at our FabricArthèque, everything is at your disposal for you to express your creativity! Of course, this creativity and pent-up energy can also be expressed through other means such as sports.

Isn’t it great now to be able to experience all this just steps from home? Although Saint-Laurent’s administration is pleased to have successfully completed major projects including the Bibliothèque du Bois   and the Complexe sportif, what fills us most with pride is watching all Saint-Laurent’s families enjoy them!

Our vision was of an active community made up of curious citizens who are driven by the desire to always challenge their limits! It’s now our new reality, which will continue to improve with the pursuit of our other projects that are in the works!

Building permits totaling $398 million in 2019

STRONG AND BALANCED GROWTH FOR SAINT-LAURENT

At the general Council meeting held in January, the Mayor of Saint-Laurent Alan DeSousa presented a record-breaking report on the value of building permits issued for the territory in 2019.

All categories combined, the projects approved during the past year represent more than $398 million, up $138 million or 53% compared to 2018. In addition, the majority of major construction projects will aim for LEED certification.

The Mayor of Saint-Laurent is all the more pleased as the increase reflects the success of the planning efforts that the Saint-Laurent Administration is devoting to the two strategic and complementary sectors of residential and industrial development.

“Within our vision of sustainable development, we want to stimulate the economy, on the one hand, in order to create jobs and, on the other hand, to bring workers closer to these new jobs in order to limit the distances traveled and the resulting inconveniences,” he explained. “And since some of this booming growth is due to the arrival of the REM at the Bois-Franc station and in the industrial park, our Administration must ensure the harmonious and viable development of these much sought-after sectors.”

Residential sector: Nearly 500 housing units around Bois-Franc station

With an increase of $76.7 million, or more than 63%, for a total of $197.6 million, the residential sector continued its strong growth that began several years ago.

Among the major residential projects, three projects in the TOD (Transit-Oriented Development) sector around Bois-Franc station will add 487 new housing units, plus a few commercial spaces, for a value of $88 million. The projects, which are being carried out by Montclair, Sotramont and Vertex, will all aim for LEED certification.

Also noteworthy is Phase 1 of a project carried out by Jadco Corporation at the corner of Boulevard Cavendish and Boulevard Thimens, which will consist of 185 housing units worth $37 million.

Other major projects include the Congrégation des Sœurs de Sainte-Croix’s 170-room assisted living facilities for seniors on Boulevard de la Côte-Vertu, valued at $27.5 million. And lastly, a $3.8-million project will enhance the Décarie commercial artery with the construction of a mixed-use building including 18 housing units above a commercial ground floor at 855, boulevard Décarie.

Industrial sector: Investments up more than 106%

In the industrial sector, an increase of more than 106% was recorded: the value of permits reached $122.6 million, up approximately $63 million over the previous year.

Highlights include two major expansion projects at Technoparc Montréal’s Saint-Laurent campus. Carried out by the NÉO-MED Institute and Vantage Data Centers Canada, these LEED-certified projects will represent investments of more than $40 million.

“In addition, the major industrial requalification project at the former Sears site will continue with work totalling more than $24.4 million. Interestingly, part of the roof will be used to house Lufa Farms, the world’s largest urban farm. This is excellent news for this building overlooking Saint-Laurent’s future biodiversity corridor,” added Mayor DeSousa.

Institutional sector: Another school expands

In the wake of the strong demographic growth noted in Saint-Laurent for more than a decade, a new school (Cardinal-Léger) has begun an expansion project, with construction valued at $15.6 million. In addition, in connection with family services, Aréna Raymond-Bourque is currently undergoing renovations worth an estimated $23 million.

LEESA HODGSON, NEW EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF DÉVELOPPEMENT ÉCONOMIQUE SAINT-LAURENT

The Développement économique Saint-Laurent (DESTL) board of directors has officially approved the hiring of Leesa Hodgson as the Executive Director. Leesa’s broad experience in agency development and business planning spans nearly 30 years.

Leesa gained extensive knowledge about local companies during her eight years as the director of continuing education and business at Cégep du Vieux-Montréal. Her outstanding leadership in this position resulted in the college being awarded the Award of Excellence by the Société de formation et d’éducation continues in 2013.

In her previous role, Leesa forged many ties with stakeholders in the manufacturing industry and worked on major projects with local corporations, including ABB and Bombardier Aéronautique. Also in this position, she put in place a robotics research and training centre using Industry 4.0.

“There’s no doubt that the relationships Leesa has nurtured in the manufacturing district and within Industry 4.0 will be very useful in reinforcing the trend Saint-Laurent has embraced with respect to new technologies, specifically via the future Industrial Innovation Complex, and our innovative Intelligent Manufacturing District. We welcome her and wish her the best of success in this new challenge!”, expressed the Mayor of Saint-Laurent, Alan DeSousa.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

WHAT GOES INTO THE BROWN BIN?

The brown bin is hungry! In addition to table scraps, it also enjoys feasting on soiled paper and cardboard, as well as on green waste.

The brown bin is not for bags!

Plastic bags are prohibited. Even compostable and biodegradable bags are not permitted because they slow down the decomposition process. Items that are discarded in these bags cannot be sent to the composting centre and are landfilled.

Do you have your collection schedule?

EARTH HOUR

One hour is all it takes to show our support for a global movement that has gained in popularity year after year since it was first held in Sydney in 2007!

With Saint-Laurent now recognized as a sustainable municipal territory, its people are invited to join the Earth Hour initiative by shutting off all their lights from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 28!

This simple gesture demonstrates concern for the preservation of the environment and participation in initiatives to fight climate change.

A SUNNY, SNOWY SETTING FOR THE WINTER FESTIVAL WEEKEND!

LE CENTRE D'EXPOSITION LETHBRIDGE PRÉSENTE F E U, UNE ALLÉGORIE DE LA CIVILISATION TECHNICIENNE

Le samedi 1^{er} février, quelque 200 visiteurs du Centre d'exposition Lethbridge ont pu découvrir la toute nouvelle exposition F E U, accueillant des œuvres réalisées par six artistes du collectif CIRCA Art actuel, soit Philippe Caron Lefebvre, le duo Couturier Lafargue, Chantal Durand, Yves Louis-Seize, Dominic Papillon et Éric Sauvé.

Au moyen de sculptures, de photographies et d'installations, entre autres, les créateurs abordent la notion du feu comme allégorie de la civilisation technicienne. L'exposition offre ainsi un regard sur 30 ans d'histoire de la sculpture et de l'installation en art contemporain dans un côtoisement d'œuvres d'artistes de générations différentes.

Les amateurs d'art ont jusqu'au 22 mars prochain pour découvrir les 17 œuvres présentées gratuitement dans le cadre de cette exposition.

UNE PROGRAMMATION BONIFIÉE ET DES CITOYENS ENGAGÉS POUR LA CULTURE

Lancée au Centre des loisirs le 24 janvier par une prestation dynamique de Philippe Routhier et de ses invités, la programmation culturelle hiver-printemps s'annonce plus accessible que jamais pour la population avec, au fil des prochains mois, une trentaine d'événements, pour la plupart gratuits, présentés dans l'une des salles intimes et accueillantes du territoire. La culture sera d'autant plus entre bonnes mains qu'une vingtaine de résidents de Saint-Laurent s'impliqueront bénévolement dans le Club de la culture. Ce projet, unique à Saint-Laurent, permettra aux participants de faire des sorties au théâtre, de rencontrer des artistes et des artisans du milieu et ainsi de parfaire leur sens critique.

AN IMPROVED PROGRAM, AND CITIZENS MOBILIZED FOR CULTURE!

Launched at the Centre des loisirs on January 24 with a dynamic show by Philippe Routhier and his guests, the winter-spring cultural program promises to be more accessible to the public than ever with some 30 events, most of which are free, scheduled for the coming months at the intimate and welcoming venues on the territory. Culture will also be front and centre for some twenty Saint-Laurent residents volunteering with the Club de la culture. This project is unique in Saint-Laurent and will enable participants to enjoy theatre outings, meet with local artists, and hone their critical senses.
