

MOVING

Moving isn't easy for anyone but it's especially hard on children. Those stories tell how children handles emotional impact of moving and that moving might not be so bad after all.

We are best friend

by Alik

Robert is at lost when when his best friend moves away.

E ALI

Moving gives me a stomach ache

by Heather McKend

E MCK

From far away

by Robert Munsch

E MUN

My best friend moved away

by Joy Zelonky

When his best friend moves away, Brian tries to cope with his feelings of loss and separation

E+ Life

Older readers

Then again maybe I won't

by Judy Blume

Thirteen-year-old Tony adjusts with difficulty to his family's move to a home in the affluent suburbs of New York.

JFIC B658t

Blue Willow

by Doris Gates

A little girl, who wants most of all to have a real home and to go to a regular school, hopes that the valley her family has come to, which so resembles the pattern on her treasured blue willow plate, will be their permanent home

JFIC G259b

Anastasia again

by Lois Lowry

Twelve-year-old Anastasia is horrified at her family's decision to move from their city apartment to a house in the suburbs.

JFIC L921a

The trouble with thirteen

by Betty Miles

Twelve-year-old Annie is unwilling to face some major changes in her life, specially moving to New York City.

JFIC M643t

It's your move

by Linda Bourke

Suggests ways to make moving as pleasant as possible, including saying good-bye, packing your possessions, and exploring your new place

J643 B775i