Published by the Borough of Saint-Laurent for its residents

The Féerie enjoys a tremendous 20th Anniversary

For the 20th edition of the Féerie d'hiver organized by Saint-Laurent, conditions were optimal for a highly successful anniversary event!

Under a beaming sun, close to 2000 residents came out to enjoy the many activities offered at the Féerie's parc Cousineau site under the theme «Monsters go wild!»

Among this year's innovations, were the climbing structure and giant maze, both of which the participants thoroughly enjoyed.

The activities traditionally offered during the Féerie were featured as well, including horse-drawn carriage rides, hockey and broomball matches, games, entertainers, and hot chocolate!

SAINT-LAURENT IN MOTION

An awesome artistic summer project

In order to enhance its various heritage, historical, natural and urban assets as well as promote active transit, Saint-Laurent administration has put in place an innovative project called «Saint-Laurent in motion», which will unfold during the summer. On January 15, the first step in this project was taken with the issue, to all Québec creators, of an invitation to enter a contest that will result in the winning designer being awarded the mandate to design and create a video projection lasting approximately 15 minutes.

The winning creation will be screened on the façade of Église Saint-Laurent, located in the historical and heritage district of Vieux-Saint-Laurent, every evening between mid-June and mid-September. Spectators will be plunged into the borough's past and they will learn about the current mosaic comprising the borough and its multicultural cachet.

SAINT-
LAURENT

Message from the Mayor

Dear fellow citizens of Saint-Laurent,

This is as pleasant an issue to read as it is to look at! We are in fact thrilled to announce that in 2012 we beat all records with respect to the value of construction permits issued. This year's value in comparison to last year's, which was $333 million, rose by a remarkable 44%. Furthermore, a large section of residential and corporate construction projects are striving for LEED certification. This could really make a difference in preserving the environment over the long term. I would like to commend residents and developers who are choosing to embrace this trend and thereby address the same environmental concerns shared by Council and the public.

A real treat for the eyes, we have also included our traditional photo report on the Féerie. Opportunities to get together outdoors in winter are few and far between, and residents flocked in large numbers to this colorful celebration as can be seen in these great photos.

Along the same vein, another activity promises excellent outreach. It is called «Saint-Laurent in motion», the details for which are presented on the first page. Without spoiling the surprise, let's just say that this project will enlighten our summer more than we could possibly imagine! Saint-Laurent residents and visitors alike will be able to discover or rediscover Saint-Laurent thanks, among other things, to a video projection that uses the façade of one of our most breathtaking historical buildings as a backdrop.

These are just a few of the items we will be sharing with you in this newsletter. In addition to this publication, there is in fact another way to stay tuned to what's happening in Saint-Laurent and even be among the first to learn about some of our activities. Here, I need only mention the Cyberbulletin de Saint-Laurent! More than 1500 Saint-Laurent residents have already subscribed. Among other things, subscribers can consult our publications several weeks before mail delivery. This represents a clear advantage when the time comes to register your children for summer camps or aquatic activities, to name just two activities. Subscribing takes just moments, and can be completed at ville.montreal.qc.ca/saint-laurent/cyberbulletin. Don't wait!

44% increase with construction projects totalling $333 million in 2012

Saint-Laurent, generator of wealth for Greater Montréal

In 2012, the Borough of Saint-Laurent tabled an excellent report on the value of building permits issued for its territory. All categories combined, the projects approved in the past year total more than $333 million, representing an increase of $101 million, or 44%, over 2011. Furthermore, 75% of its new major residential constructions will apply for LEED certification.

For the Mayor of Saint-Laurent, Alan DeSousa, these results attest to the strategic role his borough plays from an economic perspective: "The tremendous increase in the value of building projects slated for our territory now more than ever speaks to Saint-Laurent's leadership as a generator of wealth for Greater Montréal. With respect to residential and industrial development, the vitality of Saint-Laurent has become synonymous with quality of life and job creation."

Residential sector: Heightened quality of life

With a $28 million or 29% increase generating a total value of $127 million, it appears that the impressive growth in the residential sector that began a few years ago will indeed continue. In fact, with its record-setting demographic increase of 10.6% according to the 2011 census versus 1.8% for the rest of Ville de Montréal, it is clear that close to 10,000 new residents have settled in the borough in the past five years.

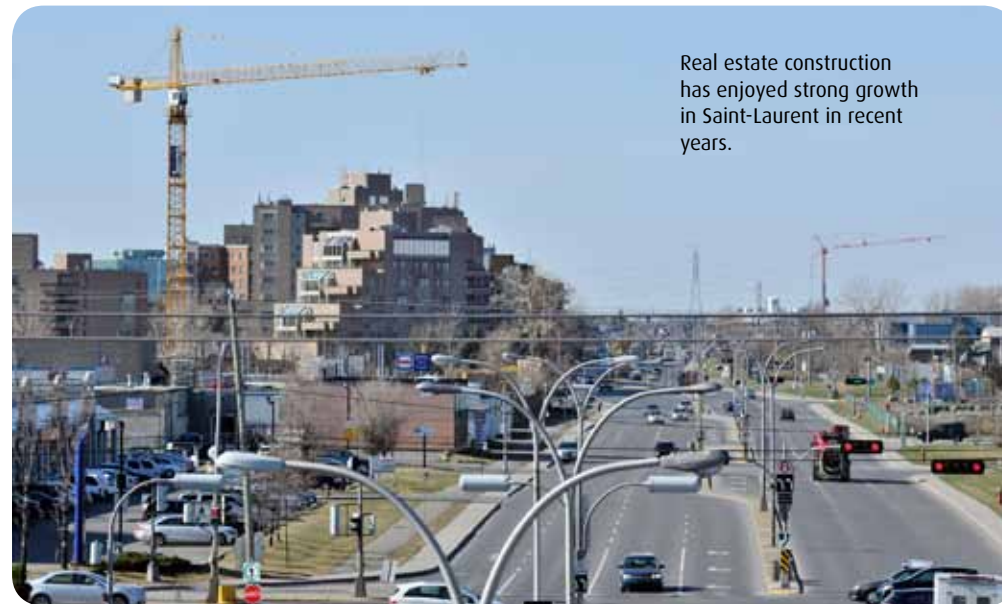

"Our borough is positioned as a champion of growth. However this is the result of the initiatives implemented by myself and by my colleagues on Council several years ago with a view to offering families an excellent quality of life and adequate services, as well as benefits arising from our central geographic location. Accordingly, residential development is closely linked to this growth," Mr. DeSousa explained.

Among these actions we underscore the development of two top-notch residential districts, namely Bois-Franc and Nouveau Saint-Laurent. Now in the active phase of their development with the development of the Challenger Ouest district, the latter will be home to 142 new housing units that are being designed in accordance with LEED certification requirements.

Saint-Laurent's growth has been secured for several years, with the Borough's administration focusing on repurposing vacated land. Two such projects are the site of the Gare Bois-Franc, which, with the advent of the future intermodal station, will become a transit-oriented development (TOD) district, and Thimens district, a former industrial sector that will be repurposed for residential use.

Service sector: Growing schools

Representing further evidence of growth in Saint-Laurent, in 2012, three schools received extension permits, which goes against the current trend for major cities, and which is in addition to the ten or so schools that have begun similar projects in recent years. Furthermore, two early childhood education centres will be built, one of which will be based in the Maison de l'enfance with the Centre de pédiatrie sociale de Saint-Laurent, and run by Dr. Julien's foundation.

Again in the service category, 2012 was also marked by the arrival of Air Inuit, which built new facilities worthy of LEED certification for a total cost of $17.3 million.

Industrial sector: Spectacular growth of 134%

The industrial sector experienced the most spectacular growth in terms of the value of construction permits issued. These increased in value from $61 million last year to $142 million in 2012, representing an increase of 134%.

"Over the past year, numerous contractors and corporate leaders have chosen Saint-Laurent as a venue for establishing their new industrial construction projects. Here we need only think of Acklands Grainger and the STM transit centre, both of which are LEED projects and therefore in line with the environmental concerns being tackled by Saint-Laurent's administration. Moreover, our established business community has clearly demonstrated its confidence in us with several major expansion projects such as those by L'Oréal, Groupe Aldo and Canada Post. Nonetheless, beyond the major investments these projects will inject into our economy, the job creation they will bring about will have the greatest impact on our community. It is with this in mind that my colleagues on Council are all striving to stimulate growth in our industrial sector, which represents a key economic driving force for Greater Montréal", concluded the mayor of Saint-Laurent.

Ordre des Grands Laurentiens

Do you know a citizen or community group that has launched a project that contributes to the development and well-being of the community? How about an original and innovative achievement that could inspire other municipalities?

If your answer is yes, the Borough of Saint-Laurent invites you to submit a nomination for the Ordre des Grands Laurentiens in the Citizen, Organization and Family Award categories.

The nomination form can be obtained on the following website: ville.montreal.qc.ca/saint-laurent/laurentiens or at the Borough Hall reception desk. Once it is duly completed, it must be submitted to Borough Hall no later than April 1, 2013 at 4:30 pm. The winners will be honoured at a special ceremony in the spring.

LEST WE FORGET Remembrance Day

On November 3, Saint-Laurent Borough Hall hosted the Remembrance Day Ceremony. On this occasion, war veterans, air cadets and numerous dignitaries gathered to pay tribute to all those who have served Canada in times of war, military conflict, and peace.

They were greeted among others by the Mayor of Saint-Laurent, Alan DeSousa, the City Councillor for Côte-de-Liesse District, Francesco Miele, the City Councillor for Norman-McLaren District, Aref Salem, the Borough Councillor for the Côte-de-Liesse District, Maurice Cohen, and the MNA for Saint-Laurent, Jean-Marc Fournier.

Members of the Haitian delegation, Ralph Champagne, Emmanuel Jean and Harold Valcin, along with Saint-Laurent participants, Josée Chevrier and Rafik Salama, with the Mayor of Saint-Laurent, Alan DeSousa, the City Councillor for Côte-de-Liesse District, Francesco Miele, the City Councillor for Norman-McLaren District, Aref Salem, and the Borough Director, Véronique Doucet.

Visit from a Haitian delegation

In December, Saint-Laurent had the pleasure of greeting a Haitian delegation comprising employees from the City Hall Support Office in Port-au-Prince. Having come to observe the practices employed in Saint-Laurent, the visitors were hosted by Borough employees including Josée Chevrier and Rafik Salama, who themselves had just returned home from a cooperative mission to Haiti.

In Haiti, the mission by the first Borough representative entailed training the documentation specialist at the Support Office as well as the employees working in the Port-au-Prince archives, while also conducting a thorough review of the filing system in place. The second Borough representative was responsible for training the Haitian planning managers on territorial planning and governance in order to put in place a permit management system and government bylaws with respect to signage.

The initiative was highly productive for all participants, and it unfolded within the context of the Programme de coopération municipale Haïti-Canada in which Ville de Montréal is participating along with other municipalities.

Course Saint-Laurent

For more than three decades, the Circuit Endurance has organized a series of races every year from February to October in a safe family environment. On the morning of April 14, the 21st edition of the Course Saint-Laurent will take place, during which runners of all ages are invited to participate in one of the events, including a 1, 2, 5 or 10 km race through the Bois-Franc and industrial districts.

Participants may register in advance at www.circuitendurance.ca or on-site at the starting line on the morning of the race, specifically at the Municipal Workshops, located at 13001, boulevard Cavendish (accessible via the 171 West bus route).

On this occasion, some streets in the Bois-Franc district will be closed. In the event of an emergency on race day, residents will be able to consult one of the on-site volunteers. Furthermore, parking will be prohibited on certain streets from noon on Friday, April 12. Signs will be erected to this effect.

This event is organized by the Club d'athlétisme Saint-Laurent Sélect inc. in collaboration with the Borough of Saint-Laurent.

BIODIVERSITY IN SAINT-LAURENT

Wildlife shelter An animal refuge in your yard

A wildlife shelter is a natural or artificial assembly that can be used by a variety of local animal species to provide for their essential needs such as shelter in bad weather, protection from predators, food, and even the possibility of building a nest to raise their young. In an urban setting, these shelters can be found in parks, forests, and even residential yards. Accordingly, the presence of wildlife shelters can help to increase the chances of survival for a variety of species as well as fostering urban biodiversity.

Call to action!

It's easy to make a wildlife shelter! Simply plant a tree, create a pond, or make nesting boxes for birds. For other ideas on how to make a wildlife shelter in your yard, visit the ville.montreal.qc.ca/saint-laurent/biodiversite website.

For several years now during the course of its snow removal operations, Saint-Laurent has been using a variety of abrasives and melting agents that are both ecological and less harmful to the environment. CONT'D FROM PAGE 1
AN AWESOME ARTISTIC SUMMER PROJECT

"Primarily originating from a religious community and from farming families that settled at the base of Mount Royal, today Saint-Laurent is an innovative community that is characterized by the soundness and diversity of its socio-economic fabric," explained the Mayor of Saint-Laurent, Alan DeSousa. "Its progress has been constant, and the video projection will definitely give the public the desire to discover the history of Saint-Laurent from its founding right up until today. The "Saint-Laurent in motion" project reflects our administration's willingness to increase our citizens' awareness of the different components of our historical, cultural, natural and urban heritage. We are also making a shift towards interactive tourism by providing mobile applications that allow visitors to discover these venues on their own while actively touring on foot or bicycle", he concluded.

The entry deadline for the first phase of the competition was February 12. The finalist will be made public in few months.

For more information about the competition, visit the website of our partner Ville UNESCO de design <http://mtlunescodesign.com/fr/projet/Saint-Laurent-en-mouvement>.

Un 20^e anniversaire très réussi pour la Féerie The Féerie enjoys a tremendous 20th Anniversary

Il s'agissait également de la première sortie extérieure de Laurent, la nouvelle mascotte laurentienne! Celle-ci a été très populaire auprès des enfants! Elle est d'ailleurs issue d'un concours de dessin organisé auprès des jeunes participants aux Samedis ensoleillés, une activité proposée aux familles immigrantes dans diverses écoles en collaboration avec l'arrondissement. C'est le castor qui a été retenu pour ses qualités qui rejoignent la communauté laurentienne, comme l'ingéniosité et l'entraide familiale. Laurent est désormais un participant actif à toutes les activités familiales présentées par Saint-Laurent.

This was also the first outing for Laurent, Saint-Laurent's new mascot! He was a definite hit among children! Laurent was the brainchild of a drawing contest organized among the children participating in Samedis ensoleillés, an activity organized for immigrant families in collaboration with the Borough at a variety of schools. The beaver was selected for its qualities, which are similar to those embraced by the Saint-Laurent community, such as ingenuity and mutual family assistance. From now on, Laurent will be an active participant in all family activities organized by Saint-Laurent.
